

Brooks Morris

Principal Atlanta

Professional Experience

Brooks Morris, Principal of Cresa Atlanta, has over 16 years of executive experience. Prior to starting his real estate career, Brooks was with Enterprise Holdings, a $17 billion global transportation company. Brooks is known for recruiting, developing, leading and motivating teams to achieve targeted customer service, sales, operational growth, and profit goals. Brooks was rapidly promoted 4 times to executive positions in different markets with responsibilities overseeing multiple businesses and brands.

Joining Cresa in 2015, Brooks has a mission to deploy his years of experience through client advisement. His unique perspective from multiple angles of real estate transactions allow him to take a holistic approach while consulting on each of his clients needs. His proven results assure the focus will always be to use real estate as a platform to support employee engagement, customer satisfaction, brand recognition, growth, and profitability.

Brooks' multiple years of experience as a Vice President and Officer at Enterprise Holdings include executing market analysis, site selection, lease negotiations, contract negotiations, P&L management, sales, budgeting, cost control, strategy, project management, and lease administration.
