

Dustin Schrougham

Senior Advisor, Project Management Boston

Professional Experience

As part of a dedicated Fortune 50 account and project management team, Dustin works with local and national client stakeholders to facilitate a supply chain distribution program. He brings to Cresa more than 20 years of experience in architecture, project management, and owner representation, and has worked on projects of varying sizes and complexity. Dustin's keen eye for detail, team mentality, and best-in-class service make him an invaluable partner to his clients.

Education

Dustin received a Bachelor of Architecture and Bachelor of Environmental Design from Ball State University in 2002.

Personal Interests

Dustin enjoys traveling with his wife and daughters. He also spends time working on his 150-year-old home and trying his hand at landscape architecture for its surrounding native garden.

Contact

317.372.6328 mobile
dschrougham@cresa.com