

Santosh Suresh

Senior Advisor, Project Management Boston

Professional Experience

As a Senior Project Manager at Cresa, Santosh works alongside organizational leaders to understand and enhance their physical workspace through tailored and strategic project solutions. He manages projects from initiation through completion including budget and schedule development, team selection, vendor management, negotiations, design and construction, and move management. Having worked in commercial real estate since 2006, Santosh brings industry best practices and proven expertise to deliver his clients top-quality service and results.

Education

Santosh earned a Master's Degree in Civil Engineering with a focus on Construction Engineering and Management from Texas A&M University in 2008.

Affiliations

Santosh earned the designation of Certified Construction Manager (CCM) from the Construction Manager Certification Institute in 2011. He is also a LEED Accredited Professional.

Personal Interests

In his leisure time, Santosh enjoys travelling with his family, playing racquetball, and all things food and libations.

Contact

469.673.4461 mobile
ssuresh@cresa.com