

David LaBree

Advisor
San Francisco

Professional Experience

David is a Bay Area native with intricate knowledge of the local markets. David graduated from San Francisco State University with a B.S. in Mechanical Engineering and worked for several years in the engineering sector. Inspired by his family involvement in the San Francisco Real Estate development industry, he chose to pursue a career in Commercial Real Estate. He brings a unique analytical and quantitative skill set approach to Tenant solutions for life science and technology companies strengthened by his engineering background. David thrives on his ability to communicate and mediate in order to best serve his clients and ensure confidence in every step of the Real Estate process.

During his education David founded a small design company that engineered several high end parts for the motorcycle industry. David maintains involvement within the motorcycle industry and continues to instruct and mentor new riders at the racetrack.

Education

- B.S, Mechanical Engineering – San Francisco State University

Contact

510.851.1499 mobile
dlabree@cresa.com
BRE#02093244