

Adam Raithby

Vice President, Sales Representative Toronto

Professional Experience

Adam collaborates with organizations to develop and implement their real estate strategy. He works closely with the Principals of the firm to identify market opportunities and maximize leverage for clients. He focuses on leasing, purchasing and dispositions of real estate facilities for a diverse client base throughout Toronto and surrounding areas.

He has worked with non-profit organizations and helped to deliver a HUB office and service centre for a prominent, Toronto-based non-profit by purchasing a 40,000 SF building downtown Toronto.

He has supported WoodGreen Community Services for several projects and evaluations throughout their office, service centre, and housing facilities in the city. He has worked with private colleges and education users identify off-market solutions that can accommodate their student requirements while adhering to the zoning requirements.

Adam is regarded by his clients and colleagues as determined, knowledgeable and honest in his approach to achieving the right solution to each challenge.
