

Barbara Wright

Principal, Sales Representative
Toronto

Professional Experience

As Principal, Barbara has been instrumental in the development and execution of strategic plans for many of Cresa's most notable clients.

With a detailed understanding of the legal documentation associated with commercial lease transactions, and many years of experience working in the design and construction industries, Barbara is uniquely positioned to understand the multitude of challenges facing occupiers during the process of assessing real estate options and implementing optimal solutions.

Combining strong technical skills and a dedication to exemplary service, Barbara often remains involved with a client throughout implementation, ensuring that the integrity of the strategic plan is maintained and delivered in the end product, and that each client's expectations are exceeded at every stage of the real estate process.
