Approximately 20% of the Boulder metro area's office-using employment is high tech and information related jobs. The Boulder metro caters to the tech-driven economy with roughly 12.5 million SF of flex inventory, equaling 50% of the overall industrial inventory. On a national scale, San Jose is the only other metro area with a higher proportion of flex space. Both the flex and industrial vacancies remain near cyclical lows at 8.7% and 6.7% respectively. Several Fortune 500 companies have a presence in the Boulder metro area, including GE, IBM, Lockheed Martin, and Qualcomm, Amazon, Uber, Twitter, and Google. Google, which employed three or four hundred employees in the metro earlier in the cycle, now employs upwards of 1,000 and is actively expanding with the completion of its 200,000-SF campus.
